The Mother Centers International Network for Empowerment (MINE) is an award winning network representing the international Mother Centers movement.

Mother Centers worldwide are grassroots, self-organized communities, supporting mothers, families on a daily basis.

Mother Centers bring women and families into center stage and support them in building their confidence and ability to help themselves and each other. They re-integrate the culture of care into public life. Mother Centers influence the quality of parenting and family relations as well as of neighborhoods. They contribute to social cohesion and integration in communities as well as bringing a grassroots voice to local governance.

MINE stands for a world that values and supports the work of mothers, and in which the culture of care is reintegrated into public life.

How we help:

Community & Network

MINE empowers Mother Centers with international partnerships and expertise.

International cooperation

MINE represents Mother Centers in cooperation with governments and social players, and coordinate international campaigns.

Skill building & sharing

MINE provides online and international courses, skill-shares, conferences, partnership building.

Support & visibility

MINE supports grassroots advocacy on family and community issues, and improves the visibility of the Mother Centers globally.
